

STRIPES TO BE VERY POPULAR IN THE SUMMERTIME

Stripes of all kinds will be very popular this summer in millady's wardrobe.

This is a model of striped satin created by Yak. It is worn with a plain jacket of taffeta, with the long, pointed side effects.

W. C. H. KEOUGH FOUND DEAD

The body of W. C. H. Keough, Chicago lawyer and former president of the Lincoln Jefferson University of Indiana, reported missing, was found yesterday in a room of the Hotel Montelone, New Orleans, La.

Police say death had evidently been caused by starvation.

He died as he attempted to use the telephone. The cord snapped and the receiver was clutched in his hand. Keough had not ordered food in three days and his hotel bill was unpaid.

His widow is a former member of the Board of Education.

MINERS SEE PEACE AHEAD

Satisfactory adjustment of differences between Illinois miners and mine operators at tomorrow's joint conference at Peoria, was predicted by representatives of both sides today.

Illinois coal mines are operating as usual, miners having agreed to continue at work with the district conference works out new contracts to replace those which expired last night. Miners' officials said today there was little likelihood that the Illinois men would follow the example of Ohio and Pennsylvania coal miners.

FATHER MCGOVERN DEAD

Rev. Father J. J. McGovern, pastor of St. Dennis at Lockport and one of the first Catholic priests to be ordained in Chicago, died yesterday. He was 74 years old.

Father McGovern was the author of several books. He was the teacher of the late Father M. J. Dorney, pastor of St. Gabriel's Church, who was known as the "King of the Stock Yards."
